

U-Light, rings of light in space

Design Timo Ripatti

Both original and iconic, U-Light stands out for its frame, which is made of two slim curved aluminium lines: one line forms an upside-down U and the other a ring underneath it, where the light source is housed. The lamp is therefore extremely light-weight and, despite this fact, it is designed to lend installations a strong scenic impact: two-dimensional elements give the three-dimensional impression of a dome, as if the two simple lines concealed within themselves an invisible volume which is indeed a presence in space.

The simple and original design of this model makes it perfect for both high-impact private settings and big public and commercial spaces. The three different sizes and the two finishes available (painted anthracite grey and rust brown) can be mixed and matched to create original light compositions.

The LED strip incorporated into the frame diffuses a soft, dimmable white light softened by an acrylic diffuser.

U-Light was presented for the first time ever at ICFE in New York, where it has already received its first accolade: this year, in fact, the first edition of the NYCxDESIGN Award, organised by ICFE in conjunction with the magazine Interior Design, rewarded original design products and projects.
